THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

Evening Edition.

MONDAY, APRIL 10, 1871.

Georgia.

The Albany News says the planters are putting in cotton industriously. Mr. James A. Barns, the new Superintendent of the Brunswick and Albany Railroad, is a nephew of Mr. Kimball, and a wide-awake young fellow. Col. Hulbert remains General Superintendent, but will devote most of his time to the Columbus and Rome, and Columbus and Albany roads, of which he is President. Iron for the entire Brunswick and Vicksburg road has been secured.

One Thousand Dollars Reward.—Bullock offers a reward of one thousand dollars for the apprehension of one Jackson Cathcrath, a negro—supposed murderer of Samuel Green, (colored,) who was found dead near this city some weeks ago.

It is believed that this negro has been within reach of officials ever since the discovery of the dead negro, and that this reward is the result of procrastination by some fellow who can at any moment put his hand upon the murderer. And it is further believed that Bullock is the reward in all such cases.—Albany News.

The Advertiser says Savannah is to have a new warehouse. She can only accommodate 70,000 bales now. A big fire, loss $12,000. John Zeigler principal loser. The Central Railroad is to be extended north to the Savannah river, west of the Ogeechee Canal. The Desoto people protest against being annexed to Rome. Desoto is a village over the river. Crops are flourishing, says the Rome Courier. Wheat promising. Cotton and corn planting going on in dead earnest. The Heard News says Wilson killed Allen Hester.

Wm. Kimbrew, of Macon, is dead.

The Savannah Republican contains a protest of the Effingham County Grand Jury against the new District Court.

The Brunswick and Albany Railroad will go through Columbus. The Appeal says Mr. Kimball says so.

Colonel S. Wells Parker, Solicitor for the Pataula Circuit, was tried and convicted of the House of Representatives fees than he was entitled to, and resigning then before they were done, at the late session of the Superior Court of Clay county, and sentenced to pay a fine of twenty five dollars, and is, by operation of law, excluded from office until after the adjournment of the next Legislature.—Early County News.

The State Dental Convention at Augusta, elected the following officers for the next year:

President: Dr. E. Parsons, Savannah. First Vice-President: Dr. H. H. Lowrance, Atlanta; Second Vice-President, Dr. S. G. Holland, Augusta; Corresponding Secretary: Dr. R. A. Mitchell, Griffin; Recording Secretary: Dr. D. D. Carpenter, Atlanta. Treasurer: Dr. Jno. J. Jones, Sparta. Executive Committee: Dr. J. Y. Clark, Savannah; Dr. Wm. Mariotta, Atlanta; Dr. Ford, Atlanta; W. H. Dorr, Madison; J. P. H. Brown, Augusta.

The News tells the death of Mr. Fred. H. Blois, of Savannah. The government detectives are after Gould, the recreant defaulter, who has gone to Nassau.

Gardens are looking well, and the recent cold weather damaged the fruit but little. Cabbages and collards never looked better.

The Brunswick voters increased from 396 to 561, in a year.

[illegible]—When in Atlanta a few days ago, we learned from the [illegible] and ever-courteous host of the [illegible] Mr. Crittenden, that he was and is preparing a summer schedule for those who seek comfort, pleasure and health away from home during the hot months. He is vastly improving the work on the Kimball House, and will have it completed in time to accommodate the vast numbers from the low country who may desire to escape the heat and fevers of a disagreeable climate.

The building is palatial in its construction, ornamentation and home appliances, while its furnishing and table d'hote are grandly their gorgeousness, variety and exuberance. The highest conception for human comfort is attained in its admirable arrangement and unsurpassed appointments, and the castle-building imaginings of the wildest laorists could scarcely rise to the lowest stage of its hospitable attractiveness. Mr. Crittenden is literally a prince of landlords and combines tasteful courtesy with that sternness of purpose and ability to execute so necessary to the successful management of such an establishment. Bob McCombs, known from his childhood to the people of Georgia, as one of the cleverest and most popular hotel keepers in the State, is a familiar fixture in the general supply and accommodation departments, and is always at his post to welcome guests and look after their comfort and happiness.

Employees and servants all understand their various duties, and guests seldom find them at fault or tardy in supplying their wants.

At another time we shall speak of other attractions and other inducements to the summer tourists and seekers for health and pleasure.—Albany News.

A District Judge Resigns Because he Doubts the Legality of the Court.

From the Chronicle and Sentinel we take the following, the resignation of Judge Gonder, one of Governor Bullock's appointees to the Judgeship of one of the new Senatorial District Courts.

Judge Gonder has come to the view that this journal has urged. No greater mistake can be made than to run an illegal court. Its judgments are null and void. It settles nothing. Every conviction and decision it makes are simply so many empty words. While the Supreme Court might decide the organization complete, yet there is a grave doubt attending the matter, and an adverse decision would leave every judicial act of these courts unbinding.

Judge Gonder puts the points well, and deserves credit for his action:

MILLEDGEVILLE, April 4, 1871.

Governor R. B. Bullock—DEAR SIR: I have had for sometime serious doubts as to the constitutionality of the District Court, and the legality of the official acts of its Judges, and on mature reflection have come to the conclusion, that the act of 28th of October, 1870, organizing the court, was a special or local act, having excepted twenty of the forty-four Senatorial Districts, whilst the Constitution, in its provisions for the court, required a general law. (A court for each district.) And, in the second place, I learn that the act was passed after forty days had expired, without a two-thirds vote for its prolongation, which is palpably in violation of the plainly expressed terms of the Constitution. I know that an interpretation of the Constitution, by some, makes the third session the second one, but the trouble is, the Constitution don't say so.

And in the third place, I am neither a de jure nor a de facto Judge, because my nomination was not confirmed by the Senate. The Governor has the power to fill vacancies occurring otherwise than by death or resignation, but it should be done according to law, allowing that a vacancy can occur where the office had never been previously filled—yet the Governor's power to fill vacancies applies only where there is no other mode of filling them pointed out by law. Now this very act organizing the court points another mode, to-wit: appointment by the Governor and Senate.

You will, therefore, please accept my resignation. Yours respectfully,

JOSEPH B. GONDER.

THE PRESBYTERY IN CUTHBERT.

ON THE WAY—MACON SOCIETY—MACON AND ATLANTA CONTRASTED—SCIENCE AND CIRCUS—TINSEL MORE ATTRACTIVE THAN LITERATURE—THE PRESBYTERY—ITS COMPOSITION—THE ANDREW FEMALE COLLEGE—DR. HAMILTON—THE CONSTITUTION—THE TELEGRAPH AND APPEAL.

CUTHBERT, GA., April 6, 1871.

Editor Constitution: On Tuesday morning, 4th instant, your correspondent rolled out from the rush and roar of Atlanta on the Macon and Western train, and at half past eleven we found ourselves at the Brown House, one of the most commodious and popular hotels of the country. We spent the afternoon and part of the evening in visiting a circle of old friends, and in discussing that infinite variety of topics which give spice and relish to social life.

The best conversations we ever have are those about which we remember nothing except that they were exceedingly pleasant. Macon is manifestly one of the most beautiful and refined cities in the South; but, as a place of business, it does not seem to appreciate the life and enterprise of the Capital of Georgia. In passing through its wide and well adorned streets, one is reminded of the stillness of the Sabbath in contrast with the bustle and blaze of Atlanta.

On Tuesday evening, in Ralston Hall, the Rev. D. Dixon, of Augusta, delivered a lecture on Woman, for the benefit of the Bellevue Cemetery Association. It was a literary production of decided merit, but was delivered to a small assembly, in view of the reputation of the orator and the importance of the object.

It is a sad reflection that the finest essays on philosophy and science and the most brilliant literary efforts fail to interest the public mind, whilst the coarser theater and the coarser scenes of the stage draw forth the shouts of the populace. Is not this one of the painful evidences of the degeneracy of the times?

The Presbytery of Macon is now in session in this city (Cuthbert) with about an ordinary attendance of Ministers and Elders. Its business, up to this time, has been rather of a routine character, and all its deliberations have been marked by a high degree of harmony. This body embraces, territorially, about thirty of the richest counties in Georgia. The members of the Presbytery are being handsomely entertained by the citizens of Cuthbert. This town contains a population of about twenty-five hundred and is the center of much wealth, intelligence and refinement.

This is the seat of the Andrew Female College—so named in honor of the late and lamented Bishop of the Methodist Church. It is under the control of the Georgia Conference, but in its mode of government, and in its system of instruction, it is utterly unsectarian. The Rev. Dr. Hamilton, the energetic and popular President, is a high-toned and liberal-minded Christian gentleman, and has no reference to sectarian dogmas in administering the affairs of the Institution. "No pent-up Utica contracts his views." The Doctor is, by common consent, one of the very best educators in the South. Such a Seminary of learning as he presides over would be an inestimable blessing to Atlanta.

The Baptist Female College is located three-quarters of a mile from the Court House. The location is a beautiful one, near a cold spring of water. The building has been renovated, and is one of the most commanding edifices in the city. The school is flourishing under the Presidency of Prof. W. B. Scales.

Mine host, the Hon. W. B. Kiddoo, is a subscriber to THE CONSTITUTION and each day I have access to its well-stored columns. Its high character as a public organ is acknowledged by all, but the Macon Telegraph has now the almost undisputed control of this region. Joseph Clisby, the editor of this paper, is a journalist of rare ability. The Cuthbert Appeal is an excellent weekly, which circulates freely in four or five counties. More anon. W.

FALSE ALARMS OF FIRE.—There were two false alarms of fire last night.

FIRE ON CASTLEBURY'S HILL.—Last night about nine o'clock, a bar room, on Peters street, in the neighborhood of Castlebury's Hill, belonging to Jack Meagher, was burned out. The bar and fixtures, valued at $300 or $400, was a total wreck. The house belonged to E. D. Hall, Esq., and was not seriously injured.

The members of the new fire company, the R. E. Lee, came to the rescue, and put out the fire by throwing buckets of water on it. Great praise is due them for saving the house. The other fire companies did not go, we learn, it being reported as a false alarm.

FIRE ON PEACHTREE STREET.—This morning, about 4 o'clock, four wooden shanties at the corner of Peachtree and Baker streets were destroyed by fire. The corner building was occupied by J. A. Carr, grocer; the next by J. Smith (col.) shoe-maker; next George Solomon (col.), Blacksmith shop, and last, by aunt Jennie (col.) as a laundry.

The buildings were owned by Dr. H. L. Wilson. Loss $3,500—no insurance. The loss of the occupants of the houses we did not ascertain; as they lost most everything and had no insurance, it falls heavily enough on them. During the fire, a bomb-shell in Geo. Solomon's Blacksmith shop exploded, but without any serious damage. The fire originated in the corner store. The proprietor is said to have thrown a lighted match on the floor, which communicated to some kerosene which had leaked out of a barrel. The flames spread rapidly.

Tallulah Fire Company was first on the ground. We regret to learn that while running there, the engine ran over a son of J. R. Wylie, crushing his foot badly, and over Mr. Israel Guntz, inflicting serious if not fatal injuries in the latter case. We learn that at 12 o'clock to-day Mr. G. was some easier, though too weak to permit an examination into the extent of his injuries.

The Wauhoo.

The Charleston News, of yesterday, has this paragraph in relation to Aaron Alpeoria:

Aaron Alpeoria Bradley has sued the South Carolina Railroad for damages done to his horse and buggy, on the route from Augusta to this city. The case comes up to-day before Trial Justice Magrath, and the plaintiff conducts his own case. The damages are laid at $100.

☞ Massachusetts appointed Thursday, April 6, the day before Good Friday, for its annual Fast Day, while in Maine, Fast Day occurs in Easter week—a fast in the midst of a festival!

☞ Capt. Hall announces that he will take no fat men on his Arctic expedition, they being less able than lean ones to stand the cold.

☞ There are in the world about 120,000 miles of railway that have cost $10,000,000,000, and give employment to over 1,000,000 persons

☞ The effort in the West to raise money for a monument to Gen. Wm. Henry Harrison, at North Bend, Ohio, his old family residence, is likely to prove a failure.

☞ A boy eight years old, in one of our public schools, having been told that a reptile "is an animal that creeps," on being asked to name one on examination day, replied, "The baby."

STILL LATER.

From the Albany News.]

Answer to the Last new ballad from THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

Yon need not ask "a guarantee"
To press the cheek of mine,
Where nature gives the lily white,
Or art the bright carmine.
Those ruby lips you may not touch,
With yours, which quaff the wine,
Which press the dark tobacco juice
Beneath moustache "divine."

Ah! that moustache, how well it shades
Those teeth so pearly white,
And veils the curves of ridiculed lips,
As false as they are bright.
You do not ask the aid of Art,
For cheek, or lip or eye,
But whisky gives a lustrous light,
And paints that color high.

You well distrust the shape you see—
We well in fashions aid,
And catch a grace where'r we see,
Improvement might be made.
For shape our corset to go awry
From falsehood, seeming fair;
Nor deign to trust the lips profane,
That smile, and sneer, and swear.

ELBOTRA.

Albany, Ga., April 2d, 1871.

BLOODY WAR.—The recent Presidential appointments in New York, it is said, are predicated on the existence of an irreconcilable feud between the administration and Senator Fenton. The Herald says:

It is stated that Fenton was notified that he must either make peace or else driven into the Democratic party and have all his friends removed from office. Fenton refused to capitulate; hence the slaughter of his friends. The Federal patronage of the State has now been turned over to Conkling, with the understanding that he will manipulate the New York delegation to the National Republican Convention, in 1872, in the interests of Grant.

☞ Mr. Cox followed Butler in an hour's speech, which he delivered with fine emphasis, and which was replete with original points and important legal views. He paid his respects to Butler's lusty cry for power, and characterized him as the chartered libertine of the House in debate.

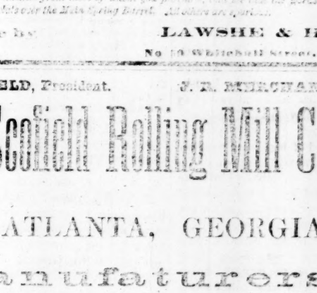
THE CAROLINA FERTILIZER!



IS MADE FROM THE

PHOSPHATES OF SOUTH CAROLINA,

AND is pronounced by various Chemists, one of the best MANURES known. It was extensively used most of the Cotton-growing States last season, and in a great number of trials, in comparison with other leading Fertilizers, proved superior to every other.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA PHOSPHATES

Are remains of extinct land and sea animals, and possess qualities of the greatest value to the Agriculturist. Pamphlets containing description of this

REMARKABLE DEPOSIT,

With engravings of Fossils found in it, and testimonials proving the superiority of the Fertilizer, will be forwarded on application.

Extract from article in Rural Carolinian, February number, 1871, giving details of experiments with fifteen different Fertilizers:

"From the above experiments and their results, I almost reach some conclusions which may prove of interest to others.

"First—That Peruvian Guano, which has been considered the standard for comparison for all commercial Fertilizers, fails to produce as much cotton as a Fertilizer containing to contain no ammonia at all.

"Second—That neither the Peruvian nor the unmixed Super-Phosphates produces so well as a combination of the two, or as a commercial Fertilizer containing both super-phosphate and ammonia, like the Carolina Fertilizer, which has produced better results for me than any other commercial Fertilizer.

The Halting High Commission.

It is reported, as coming from the members of the Joint High Commission on the part of the United States, that they have little hope of being able to present a treaty which will be acceptable to the Senate. It seems to be conceded by the best informed persons who occupy high official positions, should Congress adjourn before the treaty is ready to be presented, the Senate will be convened in extraordinary session, and at least two weeks will be consumed in discussing the treaty.

Atlanta About to Lose One of Her Fairest Daughters.

We have received an invitation to attend, to-night, at half past seven o'clock, at the 2d Baptist Church, the marriage ceremony of Miss Louise Brantly, the daughter of the popular and eloquent Baptist pastor, Dr. Wm. T. Brantly, and Colonel John L. Morehead, of Charlotte, North Carolina.

We deem it not inappropriate to say, that we echo the general sentiment, in the society of our social city, when we express profound regret that Atlanta is about to lose this one of her fairest daughters. Perhaps no young lady has been better and more favorably known, in the refined circles of any Southern city, and has been more widely admired for her beauty, accomplishments and intrinsic worth, and rare loveliness of character than Miss B

In the legitimate sphere of womanly reign, she has shone preeminently, and we cannot permit her to leave, perhaps for life, without paying a sincere tribute. She carries with her to her new home, the good wishes and affectionate regards, of a host of admirers and friends.

Colonel Morehead, the fortunate winner of this social and feminine prize, is one of the leading citizens of old North Carolina.

His father was for many years, the leading public man of that State, filling its Executive chair and other high offices. He finally retired from politics, and devoted his great abilities and powerful energy, to inaurating the great system of railroads, of which the North Carolina is the central trunk. He was instrumental in constructing nearly five hundred miles of railway in the old Tar Heel State, thus leaving an enduring monument of his genius and patriotism.

Col. Morehead is a worthy son of this sire, and already a prominent man in his State. He carries his bride to a social position that her charms will grace, and to a home whose elegance she will adorn.

We trust that we shall be pardoned these few words, in regard to this accomplished young Atlanta lady, and her chosen husband and to utter the earnest words of congratulation that spontaneously flow.

More Indian Relics.

From the Rome Courier we clip the following, which shows that the discovery of Indian relics is not confined to Middle Georgia. We take occasion to repeat that these relics should be utilized, and their history recorded:

A WONDERFUL SUBTERRANEAN WORK-SHOP.

We are reliably informed that S. B. Chambers, Esq., of this county, has recently been clearing out a cave near his mill, and has made many curious discoveries.

A large amount of loose rocks and dirt have been removed, and numerous Indian relics found. Among them are specimens of pottery, and something resembling crucibles, flint hatchets, arrow heads, head trinkets, etc.

The appearances are that this subterranean room was used by the Indians as a shop, in which to work some kind of metal that was melted by them. The cave is still being cleared out and examined, and great interest is felt in valuable discoveries that are deemed almost probable.

Savannah and Her Cotton Trade.

The progress Savannah has made as a cotton mart is simply marvelous. But it is a marvel due to her own enterprise in the way of successful railroad combination.

We copy the following interesting statements from the Savannah Republican:

We give below a comparison of the receipts at the four principal cotton ports for the years 1890 and 1871, which will afford some idea of the increase in receipts at this port and falling off at the others, while at the same time there is considerable difference in the amount of the crop:

	1860.	1871.
New Orleans	1,994,577	1,179,118
Savannah	471,773	665,662
Mobile	745,944	358,395
Charleston	449,473	305,108

The receipts from September 1, 1859, to April 5, 1860, reached 4,049,847 bales, and for the same time in 1870–71, 3,292,807 bales. Of these amounts Savannah has received, in 1860, 471,773 bales; in 1871, 665,662—showing that while the other ports exhibit a decided falling off in their receipts, ours have increased about 200,000 bales. Of this increase a large proportion has been drawn from the Mississippi Valley and Central Alabama. Before the war the cotton of Mississippi all went to New Orleans, and that of Alabama to Mobile. By the extension of our railroad connections wherever it could be done, and by the energy and sagacity of our merchants, we have been enabled to compete with these great cotton marts for a portion of this trade.

Our railroad-men are now using every effort to make all the connections possible, and are extending their iron arms in every direction, and when they shall have completed their lines to the river front, thereby giving greater facilities to planters of placing their cotton at the presses and upon the wharves, without incurring the expense of hauling it through the city, we feel confident in predicting that Savannah will continue to (as it has already done) distance all her competitors except New Orleans, and will, at least, equal that part in the control of the great cotton trade of the Mississippi Valley. We have already received several shipments this season from Vicksburg and other points, and it needs but a small amount of energy and business tact to grasp nearly the whole trade of that section; for it is a safer, and cheaper, and speedier route by which to reach foreign markets.

It will be seen from these statements how Savannah has increased her cotton business when other ports have fallen off, and that it has been by foresight, energy and calculation. We take great pride in Savannah's growth, and we hold up her course in this matter as an example for Atlanta. Railroads must do all things for our Gate City, and our people may as well realize the fact at once.

Every dollar spent in railroads by us, though it may be a temporary debt, will multiply our wealth and commercial strength like magic. Nor can we afford to sleep over our railroad enterprises. Every day gone is lost, and active rivals are leaving us behind. We cannot be beneficially stationary, while others are progressive.

On with the new railroads.

The Connecticut Election.

We have awaited to hear the official results of the Connecticut election before making any comment upon it. We have also desired to learn as correctly as possible the elements and questions entering into the contest.

The New Hampshire election was a disastrous blow to the Radicals, and they felt it. The Democracy were cheered, and properly. That victory was a significant and encouraging one. But we did not think it meant a victory for the Democrats in Connecticut, and, therefore, while many of our Democratic exchanges were hopefully prognosticating the results of the Connecticut election, we were silent, believing that triumph there was an uncertain matter.

The New Hampshire defeat very naturally spurred up the Radicals, and harmonized their differences. In fact, it alarmed them greatly, and we looked for redoubled exertion and more careful strategy in Connecticut. The Democracy was a little too confident Everything was favorable to the Radicals.

Connecticut has been a very uncertain State for several years. The following table will show the vote for the last sixteen years:

	Democratic.	Republican.	Majority.
1856*	34,964	42,745	7,749—R.
1857	31,176	31,706	540—R.
1858	33,549	33,288	2,749—R.
1859	38,209	40,279	1,870—R.
1859*	37,158	43,792	6,634—R.
1861	40,926	43,012	2,086—R.
1862	30,631	39,820	9,188—R.
1863	34,396	41,037	6,641—R.
1864	34,162	39,840	5,678—R.
1864*	32,265	38,901	6,636—R.
1865	41,339	46,974	11,635—R.
1866	43,483	43,974	541—R.
1867	47,565	46,578	987—D.
1868	52,541	48,677	1,764—D.
1868*	47,844	50,780	2,936—R.
1869	55,082	45,466	611—R.
1870	44,128	43,285	843—D.

The Congressional delegation in 1870 was selected by majorities as stated in the subjoined table:

Dist.	Democratic.	Republican.	Majority.
I	10,881	11,617	736—R.
II	12,078	13,102	434—R.
III	6,815	9,212	2,389—R.
IV	12,975	11,915	1,060—D.

The Legislature last year stood as follows:

	Senate.	House.	Joint Ballot
Republicans	11	129	140
Democrats	10	110	120
	1	19	20

This year a new element has entered the contest. The negro vote is counted for the first time, and numbers between a thousand and fifteen hundred. These negroes, it is generally conceded, voted solidly for the Radicals. It will therefore be seen that, leaving out this vote, the Democracy would have increased their majority of last year nearly double.

The vote this year, it is estimated, stands thus: English, Democrat, 46,077; Jewell, Republican, 45,870; English's majority over Jewell 107.

This is the New York World's estimate. It is still in doubt, however, whether English has enough votes to overcome the scattering ballots. If he is elected, it is by a scratch. If the election goes to the Legislature, Jewell, the Radical, will be elected. As far as the lesson of the election is concerned, however, the success of English or Jewell, by so small a majority, is immaterial. The total vote this year was over 92,000. The vote last year was 87,413, showing an increased vote of over 4,500. This shows a very active canvass. In 1868 the vote reached 98,214, when the Radical majority was 2,936.

Altogether the result is a clear Democratic gain on the increased white vote. About a dozen Democratic members of the Legislature are gained, which shows more clearly than the gubernatorial vote the Democratic progress in that State.

The unfair method of legislative representation in Radical advantage, is shown by the fact that with a nearly equally divided vote, the Legislature should be so largely Radical. One fruit of Democratic rule will be the correction of this injustice.

A good many reasons are given why the Democratic majority was not greater. Many local causes entered into the contest. In one District a very unpopular candidate for Congress was run by the Democrats, and it is claimed that at least a thousand voters staid at home on this account.

Again, the Radicals worked very hard. They resorted to many tricks. They forged a dispatch in the name of Governor English to produce the impression that improper means were to be used to operate on the election.

One cheering sign was the retreat of Grant from his policy of usurpation, in order to keep the Republicans up to party fealty. He telegraphed that he was not going to push his San Domingo matter. And the Shellabarger Ku-Klux bill was reported modified. This shows that the Administration had to truckle to the growing unpopularity of the centralizing policy.

Take it altogether, the result is cheering to the Democracy.

There is one charge of which there is no proof, which comes from a doubtful authority, viz: the editorial columns of the New York Sun and the New York Herald. We have no means of verifying or falsifying the matter, but we have seen it charged in no other papers. Here is what the Sun says:

Another cause tended strongly to English's defeat. As soon as the result in New Hampshire was known, the old Bourbons, who hang like dead weights on the Democratic party and retard its advance toward broader and higher ground, ran wild, and began to talk of sending the United States Constitution to a National Convention for revision. This alarmed the anti-Grant Republicans of Connecticut, and threw the State against English. This should teach sensible Democrats that the sooner they send these reactionary malcontents to the rear of the column, the better it will be for the party.

We give this for what it is worth, strongly doubting its truth.

The Georgia Railroad Accommodation.

We call the attention of the authorities of the Georgia Railroad to the article signed DeKalb, and commend its utterances.

☞ The Siecle gives a vivid description of the scene which ensued in the National Assembly when M. Conti, the ex-Secretary of the ex-Emperor Napoleon, spoke in favor of the latter. The Assembly stormed at him, pale with rage, and howled opprobrium upon the name of Bonaparte. But M. Conti, with his eye-glass upon his hooked nose, and an impassive look upon his pale, thin, sinister, and yet comical face, stood calmly surveying the excited and frantic assemblage. Continuing, the Siecle describes how Victor Hugo made an ineffectual attempt to induce to Assembly to permit M. Conti to be heard, but without result:

The fury was unceasing, the yells become more and more passionately wild, fists are clenched, faces are livid, and bloodshot with rage. "Down with the Bonapartes!" "Down with Badinguet!" All of a sudden, amid this crowd and tempestuous tumult, there appears, as if by accident, a proud head above the tribune, side by side with the thin face of M. Conti. The visage of the new comer is red, his hair and beard are white. It is the visage of Victor Hugo, the author of "Napoleon the Little," by the side of the secretary of the man of Sedan. Terrible grand spectacle! From all lips there came one spontaneous cry of "Chastisement!" "Here is chastisement!" (Châtiment! Voilà le châtiment!)

The Georgia Railroad Accommodation.

Editor Constitution: Can it be true, that the Georgia Railroad is to discontinue the accommodation train, between Atlanta and Stone Mountain. Such rumors are afloat, yet I can scarcely believe it true. It would seem that the interests of the road would dictate the propriety of making this train a permanent one, and so announcing to the country. It is said it does not pay. If the road will make it permanent, and let this be known, this complaint of not paying will soon cease, for such an arrangement will rapidly develope the country from Atlanta to the Mountain. The Superintendent could well afford to run even at a small loss, it would seem, for a year, in order to build up a permanent business.

But there is one point, to which the people of this county will be glad for you to call the attention of the authorities of this road. It is this: The disposition to accommodate the people manifested by this arrangement, has done more than any other circumstance to rid the road of the prejdjuice heretofore existing against it in the minds of this people.

This is evidenced by the verdicts rendered in the cases in which the Georgia Railroad Company was interested, at the last Superior Court in this county. Formerly the prejudice existing against it would have had influence on the minds of juries. Now, the people are inclined to favor the road as far as possible. Can it afford to ignore this consideration? Let the managers show a disposition to accommodate the people, and the President will no longer have to complain that the verdicts of juries amount to confiscation. DEKALB.

CUMMING, GA., April 4, 1872.

Editor Constitution: Agreeable to previous notice, quite a large and respectable portion of the citizens of this county met in the Courthouse for the purpose of holding a railroad meeting. Martin Graham, Esq., was called to the chair, and J. C. Blackstock, Esq., requested to act as secretary. Judge I. C. Clement was called upon and requested to explain the objects of the meeting, which he did in very appropriate remarks, setting forth the importance of a railroad to develope the resources the country. In conclusion, he called for the report of the committee appointed at a subsequent meeting, when Col. H. C. Kellogg, chairman of the committee, came forward and read a communication from W. K. DeGraffenried President O. and N. G. Railroad, setting forth the great importance of the road, and intimating the willingness of the company to examine the route through this county, etc., etc.

Colonel James R. Brown, of Canton, being present, was called upon, and addressed the meeting in a forcible, plain and intelligent argument at some length, setting forth the many advantages a railroad was to the country through which it passed.

Dr. A. J. Sindler, of Lawrenceville, also made a short, plain and interesting talk to the meeting, assuring the people of the hearty cooperation of our neighbor, Gwinnett county, in furthering on this great enterprise.

On motion of Judge I. S. Clement, the meeting unanimously adopted the following resolutions:

Resolved, That this meeting pledge a liberal subscription, if wanted, to the contemplated road, provided it is located through our county.

Resolved, That the Chair appoint a committee of five, whose business shall be to correspond with the officers of the road; meet the engineers at Lawrenceville, when they return to the survey above that point; lay before them the advantage of this route, and procure a survey of the same to accompany them; give all the information and aid in their power and possession.

The Chair appointed Judge I. S. Clement, H. C. Kellogg, D. I. L. Hughes, Dr. H. P. Riden, and Hon. H. P. Bell, committee.

Resolved, That the Gwinnett Atlas, Mountain Signal, and THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, be requested to publish the proceedings of this meeting.

The meeting then adjourned.

MARTIN GRAHAM, Chairman.

J. C. BLACKSTOCK, Secretary.

BUTLER AND GARRETT DAVIS.

MR. DAVIS RECOUNTS THE SPOON SCRAPE THAT MADE BEN BUTLER HIS ENEMY.

Mr Davis then said that during the war a gentleman named Brother came to Washington from St. Louis, and stated that he owned a house in New Orleans, which he had left some months previously for the purpose of sojourning in St. Louis during the hot months, as was his habit; that before leaving home he placed his service of silver plate, worth about $4,000, in the vault safe of a merchant friend for security, and had locked up in his house all his other furniture, which had cost him some $30,000; that after General Butler was appointed to the military command at New Orleans he heard about this plate, and therefore sent a military order to demand its delivery over to him, which the party holding it declined to obey. Upon this Butler sent a dle of soldiers, with workmen and the necessary implements, who forcibly opened the vault,

AND CARRIED OFF THE PLATE.

He then sent an armed force to Mr. Brother's house, and had them cart away all that gentleman's furniture. Mr. Brother made application to President Lincoln for an order on Butler for the surrender of the property, and Senator Henderson and Representative Rollins, of Missouri, went with Mr. Brother to the President, and indorsed his high character and his loyalty to the government, but the President declined to interfere. He (Mr. Davis) then moved a resolution in the Senate for the appointment of a select committee to investigate the complaint of Mr. Brother. The Senate voted it down. At the ensuing session, he introduced it again, when the majority again rejected it.

A few days after having moved the resolution a second time, I received a discourteous note from Gen. Butler, and thereupon I pronounced in the Senate, that he was a military blunderer, and that his cowardice and incompetence as a commander had brought shame and dishonor upon the country, its government, and arms at Big Bethel, New Orleans, and Wilmington.

Special dispatch to THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.]

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The tenor of debate in the Senate to-day, indicate that had a vote been reached on the Blodgett case, he would have been declared not entitled to a seat. The best legal minds on both sides in the Senate are opposed to his admission. It is probable that no decision will be reached in the case this session. C. A. P.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Boutwell has returned.

Delano will return on Wednesday.

Belknap has returned.

No Southern nominations.

No Executive session.

The amnesty bill which passed the House this evening, by a vote of 134 to 46, excepts those who were members of Congress, officers of the army and navy, who left to join the rebellion, and members of State Conventions, who voted for the ordinance of secession.

The bill was supported by all the Democrats and many leading Republicans, among them Banks, Dawes, Eames, Farnsworth, Garfield, Lynch, Hale, Scofield, Kelly, Finklenburg and Sheldon.

Among the Southern Republicans who voted nay was Maynard, Wallace, Porter and Elliott.

In the House, a bill was introduced allowing the Memphis and Savannah Railroad to enter public lands. Land was granted to the Selma and Gulf Railroad; also, to Kansas City and Memphis Railroad.

The amnesty bill passed under a suspension of the rules, with applause on the floor and gallery.

The following bill, withdrawing public lands from market, passed by 120 to 121:

Resolved, That the House reaffirms the resolution adopted on the 12th of December, 1870, by the House of Representatives of the 41st Congress, declaring that the true principle of revenue reform points to the abolition of the Internal Revenue system, which was created as a war measure to provide for extraordinary expenses, and the continuance of other internal taxes, and that property adjusted rates should be retained on distilled spirits, tobacco, and malt liquors so long as the legitimate expenses of the government requires the collection of any sum from internal taxes.

In the Senate, the Democratic side will be brief in regeling the Ku-Klux bill. It will probably pass by Thursday.

The proceedings indicate adjournment on Saturday.

Scott spoke in opposition to the seating of Blodgett. Sherman opposed both Blodgett and Goldthwaite.

Adjourned without action.

The Supreme Court to-day reaffirmed its recent decision under the confiscation act, holding the act to be constitutional, and the form of procedure valid. This was in the case of Tyler against DeForest, from the Supreme Court of the District, involving the title to certain real estate. The case of Miller's executors, decided before, was one of personal estate. These two decisions will dispose of the various other similar cases remaining on the docket of the Court.

The Court also revered the decision of the Supreme Court of Louisiana, sustaining the proscription laws of that State as a bar to an action on a promissory note, which had not been commenced within five years. The case is remanded, with directions to overrule the plea of proscription.

The Court also reversed a judgment of the State Court of Connecticut, which exempted from liability to the income tax, the undivided profits of corporations.

SAVANNAH, April 10.—The base ball match between the Mutuals, of New York, and the Savannahs, of this city, resulted in favor of the Mutuals. Score, 29 to 3. Time of game, two hoags and fifty-five minutes.

PARIS, April 10.—Unless the Germans save us, Paris must swim with blood. The Commune hourly grows more desperate, and resorts to fierce excesses. The Concierge'ie is filled with priests and nuns, who have been arrested on warrrnts calling them citizens, styled the servants of a person called God. The Arch Bishop of Darfay, was stripped naked, bound to a pillar, and scourged and mocked for hours, by a band of two hundred Reds.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Synopsis of the Weather Report for the past Twenty-four Hours.—The cloudy and threatening weather area of the cyclone company to examine the route through this county, etc., etc.

Colonel James R. Brown, of Canton, being present, was called upon, and addressed the meeting in a forcible, plain and intelligent argument at some length, setting forth the many advantages a railroad was to the country through which it passed.

Dr. A. J. Sindler, of Lawrenceville, also made a short, plain and interesting talk to the meeting, assuring the people of the hearty cooperation of our neighbor, Gwinnett county, in furthering on this great enterprise.

On motion of Judge I. S. Clement, the meeting unanimously adopted the following resolutions:

Resolved, That this meeting pledge a liberal subscription, if wanted, to the contemplated road, provided it is located through our county.

Resolved, That the Chair appoint a committee of five, whose business shall be to correspond with the officers of the road; meet the engineers at Lawrenceville, when they return to the survey above that point; lay before them the advantage of this route, and procure a survey of the same to accompany them; give all the information and aid in their power and possession.

The Chair appointed Judge I. S. Clement, H. C. Kellogg, D. I. L. Hughes, Dr. H. P. Riden, and Hon. H. P. Bell, committee.

Resolved, That the Gwinnett Atlas, Mountain Signal, and THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, be requested to publish the proceedings of this meeting.

The meeting then adjourned.

MARTIN GRAHAM, Chairman.

BUTLER AND GARRETT DAVIS.

MR. DAVIS RECOUNTS THE SPOON SCRAPE THAT MADE BEN BUTLER HIS ENEMY.

Mr Davis then said that during the war a gentleman named Brother came to Washington from St. Louis, and stated that he owned a house in New Orleans, which he had left some months previously for the purpose of sojourning in St. Louis during the hot months, as was his habit; that before leaving home he placed his service of silver plate, worth about $4,000, in the vault safe of a merchant friend for security, and had locked up in his house all his other furniture, which had cost him some $30,000; that after General Butler was appointed to the military command at New Orleans he heard about this plate, and therefore sent a military order to demand its delivery over to him, which the party holding it declined to obey. Upon this Butler sent a dle of soldiers, with workmen and the necessary implements, who forcibly opened the vault,

AND CARRIED OFF THE PLATE.

He then sent an armed force to Mr. Brother's house, and had them cart away all that gentleman's furniture. Mr. Brother made application to President Lincoln for an order on Butler for the surrender of the property, and Senator Henderson and Representative Rollins, of Missouri, went with Mr. Brother to the President, and indorsed his high character and his loyalty to the government, but the President declined to interfere. He (Mr. Davis) then moved a resolution in the Senate for the appointment of a select committee to investigate the complaint of Mr. Brother. The Senate voted it down. At the ensuing session, he introduced it again, when the majority again rejected it.

A few days after having moved the resolution a second time, I received a discourteous note from Gen. Butler, and thereupon I pronounced in the Senate, that he was a military blunderer, and that his cowardice and incompetence as a commander had brought shame and dishonor upon the country, its government, and arms at Big Bethel, New Orleans, and Wilmington.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, April 10.—The German peace festival came off to-day, and had a marked effect on the volume of business in some departments of Wall street. The German element was absent from the street and business was very dull in the Gold Room and Government Board. The former adjourned at one o'clock. The only lively place was the stock exchange, where the fluctuations were frequent, and the dealings on a more liberal scale in leading speculative shares.

☞ Judge Reeve was a tutor in Princeton College prior to the War of the Revolution. He often entertained his law students with an account of his efforts while tutor, to designate, in a conversation of half an hour with each student, as they would arrive from the provinces, in which portion of the country they resided, by reason of the provincialisms they used. He encountered greater difficulty with Mr. Madison than any other, as he spoke such pure Saxon. At last Mr. Reeve said: "I presume, sir, you raise squashes in your province?" "I presume," said Mr. Madison, "you mean cymblins." "Then," says Reeve, "you are from Virginia."

SERGEANT BATES.—We have received a letter from Sergeant Bates, who carried the United States flag through the South just after the surrender. He says that at Greensboro $10,000 was offered him to quit the march in the interest of the Republican party. This offer he says came through our fugitive Governor, W. W. Holden.

We will publish the letter when we are not so crowded with other matter. The offer of $10,000 is the striking feature of the letter, and very much after the manner of Holden. [Raleigh Sentinel.

Mr. Local: Cannot some step be taken to prevent false alarms of fire in the city? It not only tires out the firemen, but it discourages them. Three times has he made the journey to the Pacific coast, and now on his return he will carry with him one of the brightest stars that glitter in the galaxy of Georgia's beauty, and whose brilliancy in contrast, may well dim the lustre of the radiant jewels which adorn the Pacific coast.

Touch them softly, oh, rugged Time,
Let them drift down thy stream,
Gently as we sometimes glide
'Mid the pleasures of a quiet dream.

SUNDAY'S DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The proceedings of the Judiciary Committee yesterday are kept quiet. A very reliable statement, however, is to the effect that the bill was amended in several respects, so as to make it more in accordance with judicial tests. Efforts to make punishments follow more speedily upon the heel of offenses failed. The bill as amended is not more stringent, only more in accordance with legal logic than the House bill.

The Senate Committee on the Judiciary were in session five or six hours yesterday, on the House Ku-Klux bill. Various laws were examined, in order to ascertain whether they and the bill conflicted, while objections were made by several of the Senators to that part of the measure authorizing the President to suspend, at his discretion, the privileges of the writ of habeas corpus. The majority agreed to the general principles of the bill, and unless they shall change their minds by Monday, it will be reported to the Senate without amendment. Many of the members of both Houses, think that if the Senate makes amendments, the passage of the bill will be delayed if not perilled, as to its final passage, and hence, it is probable that it will be passed by the Senate in precisely the same form it passed the House. The above is from a Radical source.

The amnesty bill will be introduced on Monday by Hale, of Maine, and pressed to a passage.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Bank Statement—Loans decrease nearly one million dollars; specie decrease nearly two and a half million dollars; legal tenders decrease over two and a quarter million dollars; deposit decrease over six and a quarter million dollars.

The cotton movement for the week shows a falling off in receipts, compared with last week; receipts are over three thousand bales last week, when the total was the smallest for any one week since the early part of October 1870. Exports have been large for the season, and this week they are about one-third greater than for the corresponding week last year. Receipts at all ports for the week 67,543. Less rain has fallen at the South during the week and the weather generally warm and dry. Exports from all ports for the week 90,461. Total exports for the expired portion of the cotton year 2,870,350. Stock at all ports 555,208. Stocks at interior towns 77,560. Stock of cotton in Liverpool 751,000. Amount of American cotton afloat for Great Britain 370,000.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, April 9, 3 A. M.—Dispatches from Paris, dated the 8th, confirm the accounts received from Versailles, and admits that the Government troops carried the barricades at Neuilly at seven o'clock Friday evening.

The Verite announces that General Henry has arrived in Paris, having escaped from prison at Versailles by stabbing his guard, while the latter was handing food to the General.

5 P. M.—There was desperate fighting around Paris, on Saturday.

Fort Valerien and the advanced batteries of the army of Versailles are steadily bombarded from Porte Maillot—their shells falling in Champs Elysee.

An engagement took place at Ville Juif and there were skirmishes at Begnouf and Billancourt.

All southern forts have resumed their firing.

The Government forces are gaining ground in front of Montrouge and Bisetre.

A decisive struggle is expected at the gates.

It is reported that Thiers is averse to forcing an entrance into Paris by fighting, and that he prefers to reduce the city by investment.

At 10 o'clock last night the cannonade at porte Maillot and other points continued with great violence.

A conflict occurred among the insurgents themselves in Rue Du Foulborg, St. Anterne in consequence of the refusal of a portion of the National Guard to March beyond the walls.

The Moniteure says Doleschusse is under arrest, also that ambulance service in Paris is insufficient, and wounded are suffering greatly for want of proper attention.

Domiciliary visits will be made to-morrow to seek for refractory Nationals.

The recent decree of Commune has been modified, so as to make military service compulsory on all between the ages of 19 and 40.

Flotilla gunboats have been sent from Havre up the Seine, to assist in operations against Paris. Siege guns have also been dispatched from Havre to Cherbourg, for attack on the forts occupied by the insurgents.

The insurgent's National Guards in Marseilles were disarmed without resistance, and all who were taken prisoners have been sent to Opatean D'if.

The Observer says Bismarck is still favorable to the restoration of Napoleon.

MONDAY'S NOON DISPATCHES

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—In the Senate the cases of Blodgett and Goldthwaite are being discussed.

The Ku-Klux bill was reported from the Judiciary Committee with a verbal amendment only; except that the law terminates with the next session of Congress.

In the House, Hale's bill for nearly universal amnesty was referred to the Committee on the President's Message; which is the only live committee in the House, and an early and favorable report is probable.

Our foreign dispatches state that the government troops now occupy with a strong force the towns of Boulogne, Asnieres and Sabtonville. They have unmasked numerous batteries between Neuilly and Ramports.

Many of the Paris newspapers exhort the people to abstain from voting to-day, and thereby give the death-blow to the Commune.

The Communist's are barricading the Rue De Rivoli.

The Commune has made an informal demand that the foreign ambassadors shall arrange the quarrels with the Versailles Government, who, however, are reluctant to accept the responsibility.

It is stated that the breach in Fort Maillet will give easy access to the assailants. An assault is expected to-day.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, April 10.—The Tribune's special, dated yesterday evening, says, cannonading has been going on all day. The Champs Elysee are completely deserted. The National Guards are hiding in the cross streets, seeking protection from shells, which fall in every direction—many close to the American legation.

FRANCE.

VERSAILLES, April 10.—The troops have crossed the Seine and occupy Sabtonville and Long Champs.

The drawbridge and floor of Porte Maillet are broken.

The Commune Bulletin announces that the Versailles troops have been driven from Neuilly Bridge, and that the National Guards are eager to advance but are forbidden.

The Cathedral of Notre Dame has been sacked. Rochefort vainly endeavored to save it from pillage. Nearly all the valuables were plundered.

The Archbishop of Paris has been transferred from the Cienciergerie to the Mazas prison.

General Henry has not escaped. He was sent to Belle Isle.

The Commune is controlled by a secret committee, which arrests other members. It has no known chief.

Pyatt declares in to-day's Vengeur that the suppression of newspapers is an act of the Committee of Public Safety, and not of the Executive Committee.

Sunday's sortie against Chatellor was repulsed with heavy loss.

An incessant fire is kept up from forts Issy, Vanvers, and Montrouge. Damage done is slight.

Gen. Vinay will keep in command until Tuesday.

A deputation of Paris merchants to Thiers have returned without result. Conciliation is believed impossible.

There was no sitting of Assembly Sunday. A majority have gone to mass.

☞ Rome is as dull as an old "ment-ax," if so we are to credit the Commercial, a lively little paper published in that city. Gravity ought to trot his free show again. They would draw a crowd.

The Era man is informed that we are getting up a menagerie. We lack a hyena? Are you out of business, Scruggs?—Commercial.

NATURE'S GREAT RESTORER!

SCHEETZ'S

CELEBRATED

BITTER CORDIAL!

WHOLESALE DEPOT,

Northwest Cor. Fifth and Race Streets, Philadelphia.

JACOB SCHEETZ Sole Prop'r

IT is a reliable Family Medicine, and can be taken by either infant or adult with the same beneficial results. It is a certain, prompt, and speedy remedy for Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Bowel Complaint, Dyspepsia, Lowness of Spirits, Faintings, Sick Stomach, Headache, etc. For Chills and Fevers of all kinds, it is far better and safer than quinine, without any of its pernicious effects. It creates an appetite, proves a powerful digester of food, and will counteract the effects of liquor in a few minutes. As an indisputable evidence of its medical properties, we append a few of the many certificates in our possession.

CUMBERLAND IRON WORKS, TENN., October 28th, 1869.

Jacob Scheetz, M. D.—Dear Sir: This is to certify that I have been having the chills for the last three months. I tried all medicines recommended to me for the disease, without receiving any benefit. Having heard Scheetz's Bitters highly spoken of, I procured a bottle, and finding some relief, I continued it until I am happy to say that I am completely well. I not only consider the Bitters a sure cure remedy for chills, but I believe, it a preventive, and cheerfully recommend it to the afflicted.

Yours very truly, MOLLIE HART.

PHILADELPHIA, February 17th, 1868.

Dear Sir: This is to certify that I have been intimately acquainted with Scheetz's Celebrated Bitter Cordial for the past four years, and have seen its effects in Dyspepsia, Nervous Diseases, Rheumatism, and all the various forms of general debility tending to decline, and from my knowledge of said bitters, I have no hesitation in pronouncing them the best general remedy for the above diseases that is known. You may use this in any way you desire.

WM CLARK, M. D.,
No. 816 Market St., and N. E. Cor. 6th and Callowhill.

Mr. Jacob Scheetz—Dear Sir: It affords me much pleasure to inform you that after suffering for fifteen months with chills and fever, I was induced to use your justly celebrated Bitter Cordial, which effected a permanent cure, only used one half pint last August, and had no chill since. You are at liberty to use this as you please.
